

A Battle for the Internet Has Been Won

Satanic Family and Comrades these are great news.

As many of you may have read, the new rogue command for ending Net Neutrality, has been defeated. The intention was such was to censor the internet, and was part of the enemy's shut it down rampage. But in that case, it would have been way worse or devastating.

The enemy won a little battle a while ago on this over the fact they mobilized their bureaucracy and some certain freedom-hating individuals to destroy the freedom on the Net. Of course, they wouldn't call it censorship outright (do they ever say obviously what they are going to do?) they just created a dubious scheme about giving private companies (aka private firms and a handful of jews) decide how much internet speed as they going to give people to browse the net.

Net Neutrality is the concept of keeping this under the regulation of the US government, and under free speech. So, nobody, no matter what they say, irrespective of content, will not get censored and or "timed out" when people try to enter such website. Private firms have to shut up, provide internet access, and let the US Constitution do its job.

Imagine if Jewtube or any other such firm had the keys to free speech. Humanity would be doomed right now. All of us here, and probably even many others would have ended up in gulags. Of course, the new gulags now are different, and more sophisticated than the enemy created them a few decades ago. Now, these gulags are shiny and people think they are free in them. One such place is Jewtube, when one only understands what censorship is when they say anything that doesn't coincide with the jewish narratives about things.

The internet as time progresses, and if it's kept FREE (which is definitely not the case on most of the planet at all) will contribute to humanity rising to a higher level, in matters of law, justice, understanding, knowledge, entertainment, you name it. The enemy avidly hates the internet for this matter and wants to basically control it. It's evident what the enemy thinks of people that browse the internet while major companies, states, and media outlets, use bots and all sorts of other fully deceitful methods to influence and corrupt public opinion. An honest internet without any of the above would unmask the enemy forever. And it would reveal the fact that they are rapidly losing all their powers.

At this point in time and history, unfortunately, good and bad have molded together. While some governments like the Republicans are 'good' for some things, they are awful and criminal at other things. And when some governments like the democrats are serving the multi-culti agenda more, "good and bad" are only relative concepts in nowadays Goyim Farm politics. So for that reason we have to welcome the good influences (the ones increasing freedom and keeping civilization going in a better direction) with thankful feelings.

People need not forget that thousands of us laboriously have been doing occult warfare to cause a mass collapse in the media, massive uprising in freedoms of communication (such as for example all the scandals of monitoring citizens, defeating the rogue attacks like Net Neutrality, backlashes the enemy has gotten from censoring which we have made them pay dearly, the destruction of Facebook and showing that the reptile Zuckerberg is a reptilian amassing human data etc.keeping etc.).

Not long ago the US Congress has also passed more tech regulation, which, as we grow closer to the age of Aquarius, will play be crucial, especially in a world where sole jewish owned companies are more powerful than many countries on the planet.

Freedom is not only a state of being but the result of ongoing warfare and resistance. Especially when we live on an occupied planet with deluded evil people on top of it. For that we have to fight and be vigilant.

The "Goyim" are waking up and we must keep it that way. For this to happen we have to do work. This work is summarized by the RTRs. Generations from now some people will be thankful for our efforts. Actually, many people are they simply don't know it yet.

We need to keep up the warfare to enjoy, to live, and to save this world. And improve our own lives and be able to maintain any freedoms we have. Nobody is excluded here. Incidents like what almost happened to the internet show that this is no time to fool around and "not care".

HAIL SATAN!!!
