

Guardians of the Black Sun - A Message to History

Greetings to all our People and Satanic Warriors!

A War For Freedom which has long began, is now reaching a spiritual peak, during our present battle.

We have fought this war for years and this is only the beginning of very evident fruit. But who we are deep down has been fighting a war for many centuries.

Bit by bit, unknown soldiers of freedom have willingly sacrificed. Sometimes they succeed, sometimes they simply fell, thinking it was for nothing, but their sacrifice in the history of the world was not in vain, for they were remembered. They all scored decisive victories.

We have had to remember ourselves, because we are in the image of these people. Yet most importantly, we have to keep going for the future.

As it was stated before, the enemy will blatantly reveal themselves as we are approaching the climax of our cause. This is happening. Everyone can see it. It is literally everywhere now. It's as if it came from the script of some really strange movie...

But reality has exceeded, and will continue to exceed, the expectations of the ignorant, which were needless to say implanted their ignorance by the same International Element that sought only to hide itself, in the aeons and eras.

Some people however have always comprehended where this was going, as revealed by the Higher powers, our Gods.

As the darkness was looming, they started forming hidden orders, they attempted to maintain integrity into the Ancient knowledge, and to preserve it in all the corners of the earth, because they knew darkness was coming- a plot never faced before in human history.

They knew of a story that in their time looked unreal, surreal, and impossible. They knew of a time where the Gods and men lived side by side, a Golden age.

And so they did, all humans on earth, preserved something, for the Greater Coming Age of Aquarius, when Satan's kingdom would be re-instated, firmer than ever.

But it was so distant from their time... Most of what they saw was bloodshed, fog, and mist that enshrouded humanity and consumed its members. All driven by a very specific International Element...

They stood against the darkness that was looming and others could never see, and they were consumed. They fought to the last man, as the enemy invaded into their chapels, and burned their families, where now our Temples still stand. The statues of the Gods did fall with the blood of our people. They were showered in it. And so did these people fall, but their stand made it into eternal history.

The marble has been destroyed, but all that this marble ever served was to clothe the spirit of the Gods for those below to see. The Spirit has remained well alive. And our enemy knows this too. They devoted their existence into fighting against this spirit, without any real reasons whatsoever.

They fell, but where they fell, the Children of the Gods, there came others to take the Torch which was dropped by their hands. Until we were able to light up the Black Sun again. Now the Black Sun can be seen in the distance, beneath the clouds, beneath the mist and fears of humanity, and the giant face of the enemy. Now, it can be seen.

Our enemy has dropped the mask. They said to the Ancient people in the open: "Leave your Gods, capitulate, and live. Reject this offer and then you will die!". The answer of all these people is known, they threw themselves in the fire and took the enemy with them, until further reckoning.

Those leading the enemy understood the depth of their crimes and insisted on the same thing for centuries, thinking they would eventually escape reckoning, by doing what they always did: Slaughter the enemies who would deliver them into justice. But there was a fundamental problem. They required slaves because they were parasitic beings. So the element from where their death would come kept on existing...

Nowadays, it is the same war going on, and the same jewish mouth expresses its blasphemous offer: "We have our armies of our servants, a poisoned multitude, and we will rally them against you, your own flesh and your own blood- all against your Gods and your Men. Now, drop your weapons and capitulate!"

The same people of the Gods stand in the opposing side today, as they did back then, some unconsciously, others in full consciousness like us here. But right now, we have the weapons, and all they have is a mouth, a very blasphemous mouth, infinite numbers of wrongs in their back, lies whose weight is uncountable and that crush them. A plot that has been found and a humanity extremely enraged for what has happened to it.

Everyone can see it now, how evil the enemy is. And those who join them only do so because they are equally corrupt. A separation between the good and the bad is taking place in humanity.

We need not slaves, nor prisoners like the opposing side does. Do they think they can win with their defiled shock troops and their blasphemy? Then they can go ahead, for their fate is being written today as all the days we fight.

They are DESTROYED.

This is where everyone must stay put, fight, and never falter. This is our eternal duty and it always was.

Those who deny this matter will always return back into the mirror to see their own self until they understand it.

We come and go, we change a face, but the spirit that clothes us is the same, and is now rising and the most powerful, the most intense it has ever been. For right now humanity fell under the most mortal danger...

We will hold the ground for humanity and its future, as we have done centuries and centuries again. There will be something different this time: This time the enemy will be annihilated.

Brick by brick we have created what we have today, and brick by brick we will maintain it until the final victory. The enemy is scared, and terrified. They do what they always did best, to close the mouths of humanity, spread misinfo, attack, defame, and rally our Gentile family that was infected by their programs, against their own house.

The enemy has done so badly, they have even turned their own people against them. Even many of these people have understood that there is no future for them either...

When we began our systematic effort many years ago, more years than anyone else being in the front today, it's a sure fact many people laughed at us, especially the people of the enemy. So omnipotent in laughing for their little empire, that a decade later they are running for the life of their culture of lies.

Today the enemy understands that when there is the Will of Satan that is expressed by his followers, there is nothing we cannot attain, and that we cannot do.

For centuries our people and our extended racial family was afraid, beaten down, and everything was in total control. However now, things are different. Some otherwise 'unknown' people took a stand, and we intend to keep it. We know what has happened before to people like us, and we have an obligation, and the hatred and persistence necessary to keep forward. At the same time, we have the love and the vision for the world that is required.

A New Revolution of mind and spirit has started, and we will put our capstone on it today. Certainly, we are now moving through the darkness, but Lucifer is our light, the real God, who always stood by humanity in our darkest times. His name has been dragged through the dirt, and his enemies wished to destroy him.

And now Lucifer will lead a victorious war of annihilation towards his enemies. In the level from where they have enslaved: The level of the spirit. A level secluded from all other people on earth even if it was their birthright to attain.

So many battles have been fought by the Spirit of Satan above us and protecting us, against what his enemies have created. Satan and our Gods did not desert them even when the whole of humanity did desert them, and they did not betray us when the majority of the world has betrayed them. And they did not falter, when the weaker elements in humanity have faltered...

Now, the major instigator is recognized as they were in time immemorial, and now this war continues until their total spiritual annihilation. They attempted to destroy all of us by turning mother against child, father against son, and brother against brother to cast a stone, and they have unfortunately succeeded for their time. But now their time is over and the world will recognize.

And one thing we know: We are still HERE. We have withstood the enemy, and we have surpassed them in power with one friction of their men, and cattle slaves.

But we also know another thing: We will be victorious.

For the "Truth will be the victor in this struggle!"

We do not have fear, we do not have mercy, we will take no prisoners.

A war of freedom is being waged, and all battles we win in Satan's Name.

Therefore this is our Pledge to History today:

We fight a war for Freedom, we call on Satan, and in Victory he shall lead us. The power of a silent mouth he gave us you, the power to move the mountains from the shadows. No tyrants are too great, and no swords too long, no tyranny eternal...

This is the first war in which the forgotten Name of the forgotten One will be remembered. His Name, the name by which Humanity has ever won all its Just battles shall be known: SATAN IS HIS NAME.

The Reign of the enemy has been cut by the sword, their lies have been destroyed as the western wind, and our Truth is a mountain of titanium and mortar.

THEY FALL INTO THE BOTTOMLESS "HELL" THEY HAVE CREATED TO PUT HUMANITY INTO!

May Satan bless our efforts and our Dedication!

MAY SATAN GRANT US VICTORY!!!

The world of spirit will collapse under our Will and the world of matter will hear the echoes of the New World of Satan.

SIEG HEIL!!

The "Tribe" Has Spoken - Congrats to Everyone

This day will be remembered for the whole life of the ONLY group of real, decided, and focused spiritual freedom fighters who have fought against the enemy.

Today our people have wrote history which the enemy decided to cast down in a feat of panic and useless terror on their behalf. This won't solve anything, but they go with it anyway. This inflicted terror and insanity of the enemy manifested in them taking down the forums, and trying to destroy the internet.

With the above being stated, we have done them a monstrous amount of damage. Congratulations for everyone who participates, because indeed, you have literally shook the enemy to their core. They are so afraid of the RTR's they literally always try to gain sympathy, mercy, waste the people's time, and always misdirect them from dealing with them. But they always fail, same as this time.

We can gratify ourselves in that the enemy has been going around terrified. They literally have lost the war against the Truth to where they now just go around on a 'Shut it down' rampage.

Do not stop: They will lose. They have basically lost already with their actions.

Spiritual Satanists aren't afraid. No amount of 1984, and Communist Bolshevism is enough to get us down. We will evolve out of this. Their tribal communism will not pass.

They are coming in late. We have been doing them spiritual damage that will manifest even more blatantly in the future, and no amount of 'praying' by the jews can offset it. Satan is God, to break down the news to those deceived. They are powerless to stop what is coming, because simply, this is judgement from God.

We will not only recover from this, but come back STRONGER than before. They simply empower our resolve. Did anyone doubt the RTR's are destroying the enemy to their core? There you have it. They are terrified. You knew this astrally, but when you see the results materially and what we have caused, you will understand this is not a game.

With the above being stated, take all the RTR's and save them in some way. These are weapons that can be used virtually for so long the enemy is on the face of this planet, wrecking them total havoc.

Given there were around 1800 views on the RTR post in the forums alone, we can safely assume that many more thousands did take an active participation in the ritual, spammed it, and so forth. It's safe to assume maybe 4000 to 5000 thousand have attended the ritual just by reading on the forums and groups, ALONE. In whatever case, the enemy has had their tombstone thrown at them.

However this is not over for the enemy. We will continue for TWO MORE DAYS, so long the shadow of the energy of the eclipse is on the earth. The usual drill, the three rituals. We will also actively prepare for our next steps.

All they achieved is to strengthen our resolve and they will make us more powerful, which they will finally regret.

If anyone still questions things like the enemy and our focus on the spiritual issue of the jewish people, same as the RTR's, there you have some abominably blatant proof on what is going on.

In my latest speech which got cast down with the forum, I wrote in it that they will drop the mask very soon. Well it came a bit too soon, some hours later. Moral of the story: prepare and salvage everything now.

Quite literally, it makes you ask yourself, if some grey or some other hostile entity literally appeared to the Prophpb 'faplords & ponylovers' and literally told them to cast down in the forum. In either case, these people who do these things don't end up well or in favor to the powers of Hell. Satan will sort these people out. These are offences towards him first and foremost.

The enemy is scared. When you are not scared or in control of a situation, you keep your enemies around even to simply monitor them and know about their plots. Especially if you're a company like goolag, or a big company that hosts forums. On the other hand the enemy went batshit and got the forum down. Thankfully, this was around closing in the 22nd in Europe and that part of the world, while it was around 7-8 PM for those in the other hemisphere. This was merely to prevent people from doing the Ritual.

In closing the above, I want to say that I am thankful to be among you here, thankful for our chance to fight, but above all thankful for our collective success. We can honor and pride ourselves in joy, and this should motivate us only to continue forward.

HAIL SATAN, SATANIC WARRIORS AND COMRADES! WE HAVE RUINED THEM!

I wrote this for all of you to hear, but the enemy took it down aside our forum when it was around 300-400 views only. You can download it and listen to it.

Extra gem:

So I went to ask their so called “Administrators” in a positive way, what is going on and to be given a legitimate reason that the forum was taken down. Now from a forum of 5000 people, that were active in the thousands everyday, you can obviously see they were making quite the money from revenue.

They probably pocketed some money to shut it down, as they were OBVIOUSLY aware of its existence. But probably the rabbis and jews got explosive diarrhea from what we did, and they immediately understood that the effects would be totally devastating. But even then they acted quite late.

Okay now if anyone is wondering what happened, they simply cast down the forum from their server. They probably have it on disabled because they did not outright delete it. In any way, I do not think with their crime against the Gods these people will have a lot of time or pleasure to sit by and possibly start reading every single post in their Bolshevik satisfaction.

But to see something even more blatant, I will post a picture below of when I attempted to contact their administration through e-mail.
