

Happy New Unstoppable Year - Advancing Into 2022

HP Hooded Cobra 666

December 31, 2021

This last year was one of the most advancing forward years for the Joy of Satan. I want to thank everyone for the achievements of this last year.

Looking at the Commands from Satan and the Gods, and things that needed to be achieved for the last year, we are basically almost 100%.

Remember that also the real New Satanic Year, is in April, not now, and is based on the planets, and not the regular calendar. We have time to cap the 100%. We definitely will.

We have expanded more than any other year with new websites, new translations, a full redesign of the Joy of Satan website and the logos, New JoS pages, the Calendar's early release, the warfare schedules, the advancement of Satanic mentality, individually or as a whole. I could keep writing and writing here.

We are stronger, bigger and more powerful than ever before. We are opening a new path for people that want to spiritually ascend.

This is far from over and in fact we are only just warming up here. As we can all see, the journey in Spiritual Satanism does not end. Many have already adopted this Satanic Mindset and have come closer this year into the attainment of the True Satanic Soul. As Spiritual Satanism grows, so do the Spiritual Satanists do. The path is actively unfolding in front of us.

A great thank you goes to the people who translate, help in a non publicized way, those that donate to make everything possible, all those who have reached the level of understanding through their meditation to see themselves as part of the Greater Satanic Unity.

What this post is here to remind you, is that no matter what happens, you are a Spiritual Satanist. If you are just a lurker here, I hope you dedicate soon and reach out to the affection of your Gentile Soul for advancing.

The idea of this place is that we, on the JoS level, remain connected and remote from this world at the same time.

It can be hard to navigate a life that is filled with people who are literally on a sleeper level, but one must gain courage and power knowing that you are NOT struggling alone to break out and above of all this play, but that others are here doing the very same thing.

To attain the goals that the Gods have set in front of us, those who are advancing and the JoS must be connected in a form of a relation and bond that propels everyone to advance.

For this reason, in the next year, we will have a new Ranking title for members who have helped the community, are givers in the community, and the idea here is empower them to do the right thing for the right reasons and in the benefit of JoS and the Gods. More details on this very soon.

We want to maximize the output and meaning, but also knowledge that circulates this place, sort of like a new embryo of a new mankind's Satanic consciousness that we will do everything to protect.

In simple terms, the Joy of Satan and the path of Sat-anism should be a path of revolution against entropy, negativity, shrinking, death and decay.

While many of you here have complained in the past or lament over where this world is going, I have to remind you something here. Remember, we know what we know, not to fall into the hole, but to avert it and move past it.

Sure, we exist together with normal people who might jump in, sure, we will do rituals to avert theirs and therefore our destruction, sure, we are connected to some levels, sure we belong in them and they in us in some form of chain of life. We care about this connection, and hopefully as Spiritual Satanism enlightens more people, they will understand to care too.

But another reality persists at the same time: Those who want to remain cattle will remain cattle, and the Gods have given personal privilege to those who want to move out of this entropic mess to advance themselves.

Spiritual Satanism can give someone the "keys" to escape out of this situation and through discovering one's own creative powers, to shape their life or their destiny more than they could before.

Why do you think you are learning Magick and all of this anyway? To sit there and share the same fate like anyone else who can do absolutely nothing but sit there in the hole that is being dug for them?

Instead spending your next year worried, or in states that the farm animals spend their time, it is advisable that you grow closer to elevated understanding of yourself, what Spiritual Satanism is trying to do, the universe and the world. This will truly set you free.

We might all have time limitations, so what time you can put into this, make sure it's good quality time. You want to end up the next year saying to yourself: "Wow, I really advanced tremendously the last year". Maybe for many it will be already that this year finds you in this state.

Even this whole war with the enemy ticks, is a small byproduct of what this path is trying to achieve. Spiritual Satanism is a path that existed way before the enemy. This path, comes from the Gods, and this path that we call today Spiritual Satanism path is about 50,000+ years of a path or more.

In the existence of a Spiritual Satanist, the journey of discovering one's own soul, mind and powers, the coming together again in the path to advance your Soul and move upwards in your existence, is the important aspect of life. This experience comes in the life of someone to open them the gateway into rising higher into the definition of being a human being.

For the person who has properly aligned their heart and mind in Spiritual Satanism, fear will slowly give in to knowledge of one's capabilities and strength.

Nobody can take this away from you besides yourself. Looking back into the years, I see mostly positive things and some negative things, which in the end, were turned into positive things too. Setbacks? Sure. But in the end, we broke all the walls and we moved through them.

This way of looking at the world, is not a way of looking at it that denies difficulties or struggles [of which we have had almost too many] but the approach of the people who want to rise above these matters.

Something that you can take from me into the New Year, is that no matter what you see happening in this world, you must remember that you must not allow this errant thought process take control of you. This can take years to master, as we are all advancing beings after all. But in the higher levels of this path, you become mentally free.

You become free from fear, false doubt, misery. But you have to want to make it happen too, which is why this path can come at a clash with all our inner constrictions and personal deficiencies, especially as it tries to rebuild the broken self into something way better than it is today.

Courage is required to want to break out of things that keep us back, or rise above things that try to turn us into slaves all the way back. And time, effort, etc. Every so often, you will really notice you are getting somewhere and advancing.

But the above is the definition of Spiritual Satanism and how one transforms themselves.

Nobody is at liberty to say that you are hopeless, weak, or disadvantaged compared to other people with the knowledge you have here. This should be the drivel of the Christians and the Muslims. Let them and their legs shake for 2022, 2023, 2045, or 2150, or whenever.

These idiots got too scared when their little cattle fake nirvana got affected when the world started having difficulties or when life throws some lemons at them. They were happy being cattle until this day and now they are panicking that the cattle farm owners are in trying to slaughter them or something, but the bargain they went into clearly said that this was going to happen.

Since they chose to be begotten by ignorance, ignorance has begotten them and fathered them. Ignorance brought with it fear, and fear and being enslaved is the path they have chosen through choosing to adhere to what they did.

When you live in that state of ignorance, you can live the life of your "Dreams" and still be nothing more than literal two-legged cattle. In this case, both suffering and ignorance become one and the same: The sleeper sleeps inside his sleepy sleep.

Real life starts to begin when you intend to finally wake up from this, which is far further than what the striking majority of the populace wants. For this reason, the Wise Gods have given humanity a dual capability: we can evolve [or collapse] as a species, but we can also evolve on the basis of an individual.

If you want to cast away the yoke, you can do this without other people joining you.

The return to the proper path and the removal of the yoke, comes with considerable benefits that many cattle consider now to be curses, such as the ability of choice, or understanding anything beyond the "Cattle bliss" that they think they experience every day, which in reality is just mortal suffering.

On the contrary with them, those who are with the Gods, only need to look inside and upwards in order to understand what is the next step in their journey to understand more of this world and expand themselves further.

You're in completely different territory as a Spiritual Satanist. The quicker that is understood and applied, the better one will navigate and advance in life and in their soul matters. The more one doesn't apply this, the worse generally the situation for one's self as they reject the new better input.

Certain things I have found however through the years, can be easier to visit for one's self, rather than to communicate. But the real duty of being Clergy as it is, is to keep you awake and connected especially in a world that is trying so badly [as we saw in the last years] to sever you from your own soul.

In Spiritual Satanism everything that is given has the goal in mind to advance you and to empower you. It is the generation of a new human being that is actually really human - with a redefinition of the content of what one thought humanity meant before.

Those who see this otherwise, are wearing the wrong glasses in their perception, rooted in the lenses of one's past as a slave.

It is not every next year that a Spiritual Satanist who has ensouled this path is happy about, but every single day they get up from bed.

The appreciation arises for the being that has learned the path of life, to the extent that no matter what, one will say "Blessed be the Great Gods for giving me life and the ability to partake in beautiful wisdom and understanding".

I will tell you what I know certainly about 2022: It will be a good year for those who seek to advance, Satan and the Gods are supreme, and as always, screw the enemy. We will go against the wave this year too, and we will win, and on the good waves, we will surf on top of them again.

We Spiritual Satanists, are unstoppable. Wish everyone a great 2022, filled with adventure, growth, overcoming struggles, positivity and advancement.

WE ARE UNSTOPPABLE!

HAIL SATAN!!!
