

The Mini Handbook of Satanic Propaganda

HP Hooded Cobra 666

August 07, 2016

Greetings to all our people and Comrades.

Now, I think it's imperative we cover some fundamental things because, as I know, all of you want to spread the Truth in realization of how dire the situation is. Unfortunately, we are faced everyday with people who are slobs, too lazy to think, live and let be, ignorant people, and others who simply are programmed past the point of any repair. These range in all, and from all backgrounds and beliefs.

There is, however, good news. Our Rituals and the tide of the world is turning to our benefit. Slowly and steadily, it will climax in the future and come ever harder.

For those of you who are aware of the deeper facts in Satanism, you will be able to see or you will be able to think that there is something more in "why you are here". Some treat what we do here as a positive coincidence, others may be feeling grateful or ungrateful, but what remains is the simple truth: We are all here to do our part in advancing Satan's agenda and power.

The Gods and Satan are actively helping us personally, and impersonally as in the whole of Humanity. Literally, people at a level as low as this, should understand that this chance we have right now is just ONE in the recent 2000+ year history of Humanity. Those who fail to understand this, just have no idea of the real world. We are blessed beyond any words.

Going back to the post itself, the essence of this post is not easy. As it has been stated before, the best way is to reach people massively, without doing anything but spreading the message everywhere, and letting people take this on their own from there on. This is a most fruitful and powerful method, and with just a few hours of your time, you can turn tens or hundreds of people into realization if done correctly. Correctly, in this case means impersonally, to know where you spread the info (internet is the best place), avoiding any back and forth and pretty much, letting the people do their thinking, and the Truth to do its thing. This is potent and deadly to the enemy.

In order to understand the root of the problem, one must not always look at others and their weaknesses, but one's own ability to transfer the all-important messages. I know many people here in their passion, or in their rush, they forget some fundamental things. For instance, if you act like a forceful bible trumper (which may be caused by passion and because you understand how dire the situation is) you will simply lose a person that, if approached in another way, could turn out to be fine. Never push people past their limits and learn to read people, if you are to do this personally. This is the Truth and the teaching has to be valued. Most people literally live into a never-ending web of lies. Do not spread it to people that are considered "too much of an idiot" to do anything with it, at the expense of your personal time. Your personal time can go on the method above, on the internet, and wield amazing results.

So in looking at one's self, one cannot teach, unless they are first taught. One must really KNOW what they are talking about, or just not take the "teaching" role. Pretending will not work either, as when one is confronted with questions etc. This will make Satanism look bad. The enemy by promoting wrong and false teachings, they have desecrated Satanism. Same as representing them in the wrong way.

I myself learned Satanism over the years, by devoting tens of hours daily, and pretty much, aligning everything with what I learned here. Irrespective of if I studied some things or not, this came naturally, as this rises on its own through spiritual advancement. This is where the serious and potent power of Satanism is. Satanism is Truth. If people spiritually advance, they will unavoidably see it. This is especially True for people in India or the Far East, all of whom came to understand the Truth by meditative practices. This is why, for instance, Japan is still friendly to Hitler, Racialist, and everything else. Spiritual advancement unavoidably makes one aware of nature, which in turn lights up the obvious in one's existence and life. The motives of existence that cannot really be "explained" do just open up on their own.

The same goes for the advanced knowledge of our knowledge and the deeper and darker web of the enemy "program" which they call "reality". People in the East for years of meditating, they come to the same understanding as us, with some differences here and there, with the central meaning remaining the same. We don't talk of religious charlatans, but real loyal spiritual people who adhere to the practices. The same goes for people who know real Ancient history, or just do observe reality as it is. The "normal" people are taught to see in a very closed and specific way. Unless the jews raise the bars, or direct them, many people cannot think and they don't possess a brain of their own. Then you have laziness or anything else.

Remember, if you go into the race of "Truth Bending" you are lost. Satan doesn't want Truth bending. This is his teaching and that's it. Satan is not bound to act in the realm of one's personal security or demands. Satan is not "god" in the sense of "Jewsus", who thrives on attention, worship and slaves in order to achieve a following. Satan can be with only one person or the whole planet, what matters is the truth and how many people make it into realization.

What can be done is that you become a master in all that is taught here. You don't need to bring your own aspirations in this, or try to become a self-proclaimed whatever. The highest adage in Satan's eyes is not your technique or style, it's your ability to pass down the Truth as clearly as possible. Imagine what is going to happen if everyone injects their problems, wishes and aspirations into the Well of Truth. This will shortly become a garbage party, like the Chameleon Christianity. The same goes for trying to push things like a mad xian fundamentalist.

In plain, arouse curiosity, do not force yourself as all knowing. Arise security instead of the feeling of fear. Focus on the easy, instead of the hard. Like when a teacher teaches children the alphabet first, and then advanced writing, one cannot force children to read Shakespeare on their first day at school. In the same way, don't go to some and be like "Hello, did you know, the Reptilians control the planet? You need to do something about it".

Not only this is bizarre to listen to for all people, but also, the jewish gatekeepers like (((David Icke))) have done their job in desensitizing and making all people dismiss all this crap as "Tinfoil hats" and "Bizarre Conspiracy theories". This is to desensitize the masses to the Truth and discourage people from seeking information. The same is done through movies, where people have seen alien invasions so much that it doesn't hit a nerve anymore. This is a well-staged thing by the enemy to keep their conspiracy going. They have agents that are paid millions to execute this exact job.

Your arguments and knowledge must be crystal clear. Know what you are talking about and be absolutely ready to answer. You need to be able to answer all sorts of questions, or for a better say, you don't have to mis-represent yourself in this endeavor if you don't know. If you don't know, be open to specify this. We are not supposed to play "all knowing" and more so especially to people who don't understand. Just be who you are. If you know the basics, teach the basics.

Normally, you should never go past this, or especially try to force the "heavy pills" down the throats of people. You will only meet with the opposite reactions in many cases. Everyone nowadays is taught that their "opinion" is larger than facts, and in the nightmarish dreamy "West" a lot of people think this to be the fact. Also, do not relate sensitive topics that are of a deep nature. In other words, know what to present. Unless you have these skills and the time or will to execute these, go with method one.

It is also important to give people their time. If people procrastinate too much, then it means they are probably unwilling, but this is not always the case. In whatever sense, you have advancing, empowering and education to do, and to advance your life and everything else through your own journey- do not waste your time on random wasteful people.

Now there are some of you who might possess a charismatic personality and a charisma in turning other people around and making them see your points, or make them follow you, etc. This is natural leadership, or even scholarly, or teaching ability. One can use the talents at their disposal. Art is a highest form of massive appeal. The same goes for teaching. People underestimate the power of what they are able to do with just a simple, timed, and well calculated move, work of art. etc. It could be whatever.

For those that possess these skills, it will not be hard for you to do this. You only need to get yourself down and do this. Even then, you have to follow these rules, but what I said about you consciously or subconsciously already applies. Part of this charisma is to put oneself below the Truth, while this may seem like a paradox, as this is how you will best work your talent. This is the same as a musician that surrenders to the music.

Another one, do not reduce the Truth to the level of idiots, but explain it. Make it simple, but not retarded.

As the jewish inbred psychology, the enemy has created in the minds of the masses say, people don't want the Truth. In many ways, this is accurate, just because people are cultivated by this through the jewish system. Many people are though literal "Truth" hungry and they are willing to absorb the Truth, in every and all possible ways. Then you have curiosity. You can go on curiosity.

In regards to people who are the worst of the worst, like, the "pretenders" who supposedly "want to know" but they, in fact, waste anyone's time, avoid them like pesticide. These people are not worth one minute of your time and they are the literal cancer that keeps the enemy thriving and going. From these supposed underlings that kiss the ass of jewish "truthers" the enemy has made fortunes and feeds their whole matrix of false opposition. Be aware that many people know these things are flawed, but they serve anyway for monetary and whatnot, gains. Chances are these people will fight you the most in this struggle.

As for leaflets and other methods, one has to make sure these are done in "legal" ways. One does not want to place themselves, or their lives in danger. Also, these have to be simple, attract curiosity and make people see evident facts. Those talented in this department will understand. The use of CD's, spreading them etc., is also a good idea. Of course, according to the "law", and with you being safe. If the Truth was welcome to this world, the average IQ wouldn't be 65, neither would the planet go down this road. We are not dealing with a majority which can easily "understand" as far as non-SS are concerned.

In closing, Humanity does not have to "believe" in Satan in any such way. If it would, then it would have the necessary chances of saving itself from the impending dangers Satan has alerted us of. Humanity was moving and is moving, towards its collective doom. One doesn't need to have read or studied much to understand this, one just needs to have a logical mind to see this.

Satan wanted the Truth out and this feat has been achieved. Satan depends upon nobody in this sense.

It's up to Humanity to save itself, and the Gods will assist us every inch of the way. However, it's a natural rule of existence that life forms have to act in such a way that allows, furthers and empowers their survival. Otherwise, doom ensues and we will not be the first, nor the last. Satan wants to help us, empower us and advance us, to where not only individual human beings take care of their existence, but Humanity as a whole elevates itself into becoming "As the Gods". It's up to us to make the work and choices, because after all, we are the ones who make the choice and choose the routes.
