

About Upcoming Joy of Satan Website Updates: Demons Section

HP Hooded Cobra 666
January 22, 2021

Before people read new and upcoming updates, I wanted to explain some things in regards to new forthcoming information. Mainly this post will focus on the Demons.

As many of you know, due to the destruction of the information about the Ancient Gods, there is a lot of disinformation, and much of it came from enemy sources. Before the internet was rich, and due to many other limitations, much of this knowledge was generally constrained, kept in hidden circles, and much of it, is absent from all public light.

We have been working on amassing for years the proper and correct information which is fitting in the Glory of the Demons.

Unfortunately, much of this can be rather difficult to ascertain, because of massive corruption. To name an example, many Demons have been contacted via negative or blasphemous names, which mean derogatory things. A few people have over the years described a negativity while trying to contact a Demon.

This has happened by the enemy, and other booby traps that were set there by those who purposefully published wrong information, such as jews, rabbis or xian priests. They assumed that this would dissuade people from looking deeper into the Demons, contributing further in this knowledge remaining in lockdown.

In most cases, these people can be jews, and they are afraid of them. Rabbis and other adepts of the enemy, have done specific malformations of the Demonic Names, which are tied into Numerology, Gematria, and other alterations. These can be as slight as one letter, and they do not exist in all the Names of the Satanic Deities.

These go very deep, and they are supposed to represent a negative faction of an entity, or cause energetic confusion. This can have unwanted negative overprints. But nothing very seriously negative, so one must not worry and proceed as is.

For people in whom the Demons show interest, the above should not really be a problem. Because behind the use of any Name, there is a real and actual entity waiting to be called. And so long one does not use disrespectful practices, the Demons will observe the call of true Satanic practitioner that is characterized with sanctity and respect.

The Demons also are aware of the systematic destruction of all knowledge about them, the downfall of spiritual information, and how much corruption the enemy has done. In this case, they have been tolerating these human mistakes, insofar the summoner or the person in question was of pure and respectful intentions.

But since this is no longer the case, we are going to gradually change this, because it doesn't have to be this way. To put this simply, one does not have to call someone in derogatory terms or a wrong Name, nor make a false association, since this is no longer necessary. We now have successfully restored a lot of necessary knowledge.

Despite the current absence of HPS Maxine, there will be made the necessary improvements on the Demons Section. Another thing that is to be removed, is the "Orders" of which are obsolete information, and have to do with the spiritual power of a said entity, but they are of the enemy, and this is why you will see some things like "Order of the Archangels".

In old hieratic and spiritual liturgy, words like "Archangel", did not mean the things they do today. Arch-Angel comes from Archon and Angelos, which means Supreme Messenger, and similar translations. There's a lot of misunderstood drivel that was put there only to confuse and create wrong interconnections from the enemy. That aside, any leftovers from xianity or enemy grimoires, even the subtlest, are going to be removed.

In regards to the Sigils of the Demons, these are accurate, go all the way back to Sumeria [they survived for many centuries] and they remain a credible and accurate way of contacting said Demon.

There will also be related some in depth information about them based on spiritual and alchemical meanings, of what their Names and functions mean on a higher level. These may not be necessary for everyone at once, but for those who become adepts over a period of time, this knowledge will be good to have.

Lastly, many Demons have been thrown into insignificance, and there is not much information about them, even in the Joy of Satan. There will be more forthcoming information about them also, to help those who are guarded by these Demons to build a better relationship with them. Most of the Demons there are wonderful, and they deserve more attention.

-High Priest Hooded Cobra 666