

Andrew Tate?

Lately a person named Andrew Tate has went viral, which is also very much noticed over the fact that they have been literally crucified in the style that is commonly accepted in the mob trials of our present day world.

Andrew I don't appreciate that you took the Cobra title because you aren't for it, of all times after you probably read some JoS article somewhere, but I digress.

I can also not comment on the so called Trafficking allegations but will rather focus on "Tate" as a persona on the internet, as I am not a judge nor anyone based on the news I have knows if any of the allegations about him are true or factual. They could be all lies and that is very common. Whether or not these are allegations of a political persecution will be found out in the appropriate offices.

As far as I have watched, they have called him anything from a woman hater to an anti-semite, "far right extremist" and other nonsense which is almost always the buzzword for when you are about to be persecuted for having different beliefs than the status quo these days.

Regardless, watching Tate's videos I can tell that he is mainly using excessive humor to try to get some points across in a very straightforward manner. I have not followed many of his videos nor I could find anymore anything further as his latest videos where the allegations against him are pointed at, are missing.

His manner of doing said videos might not be the most acceptable, but many of his points are exaggerated realities which we get to experience everyday and many people simply do not want to accept.

I have a difficult time to understand why people haven't seen this person yet as a form of comedian, which they pretty much are. A large part of their persona is a comedian and the fact we have taken this all so seriously that the whole internet is screaming to deplatform him is stupid.

Many of his rantings about women, or about rather the behavior of the striking majority of women in the Western world are agitating people who for all intents are really behaving as the exaggerated meme source of the joke of Tate's arguments. Tate has a square logic and tries to look at reality and life at face value.

For example, quite a few women who behave in the erratic manners Tate describes, are the ones who will equally react to his statements simply because they are into the categories he describes, which in fact reinforces the joke and the social problems that are being illustrated in a very illustrative manner in Tate's videos.

At the same time, "Women" in our civilization are told and constantly prompted to look at the lowest dross of a society as their "Idols", including women who are the grossest materialists and the worse idols to look after. This has been ongoing for decades and has been producing likewise masses of similar women that have been doing the ultimate wrong to themselves by following the stupidest "women" they could find.

Yet somehow the above escaped our notice or rather it was as the Jew intended, so now we have a problem with Tate which is not exactly what they had planned. So we got to deplatform that one.

In my view Tate's only weakness is his way of passing his points verbally, and also that he still believes in the hoax of the Christian "God". He's clearly a man that strives to improve himself and he also appears to be somehow spiritually interested. Yet this cannot happen through his belief system which is based on the enemy and overall a foolish simplicity of understanding, but that is all there is to it.

Other than this, the sudden shocks of exaggerations and jokes that we "no longer tolerate" as a society just goes on to show how weak and false we have become in our own claimed "virtues".

Recently as they dragged him into a form of public trial I cannot hide the fact that I saw much of myself and the Joy of Satan which constantly comes under fire and attacks for no reason in particular other than having ideas that don't conform to the median basic logic of the low self awareness and falsely virtuous people of this world, that despite of having no knowledge on any of the subjects talked about on JoS, they just want to point out their programmed emotional responses as "Valid arguments".

Little do they know these responses are programmed by the very people they want to protect, who are the paragons of the real evil in this world, compared to the falsely and solely "perceived" evil that "Satanism" is or more accurately, what popular media told them "Satanism" is.

Andrew Tate does not say anything that women don't say about men in their private conversations, and his perceived misogyny is nothing but extrapolated and expressed hate that both genders have because of the currently chaotic situation in gender relations in our society. He just talks about this, while many others are haters of women and men likewise in the silent.

If you read ultra-feminist materials, you will only find this and more vehement hatred against men being openly purported and spoke against vocally. Some jewish feminists go as far as to say that men need to have their genitals cut off or other crazy things.

Yet "our society" will listen to these but wants to censor Tate, which points us at to an organized form of attack against Masculinity.

Of course, the Masculinity that is attacked is any form of uprising Western masculinity. In other words, if Somalian invaders or Arabic terrorists come in the West, we generally call this "enrichment". These people for example liberally can have 5 wives and it's called "Enrichment", or might tell you in public television they beat their wives up, and your average TV presenter girl will look at them with the same blanked out face with the same smile, saying "yes, that is enrichment" as this is what Rabbi Shmuel told her to say about this in her headpiece.

But the moment any Whitey or any Western person tries to step up for themselves even a tiny bit, we call this "Toxic masculinity" and press the ban hammer on any of these opinions.

Because we are living in a cowardly world where we no longer want to accept what kind of crap we have created with social media and other forms of popularized insanity, that has made us into abominations which cannot relate properly to one another, we perceive that the "Real problem" must be Tate or his opinions, or rather, anyone who speaks from any perspective against this total mess.

The reality is that the average woman's dopamine system has been hijacked to extents never seen before in history, that many young men have become incels and pussified, and that this state of affairs was caused by Zuccerberg and other jews in an attempt to falsely "bring humanity closer" in a way that has distanced us from one another more than ever before.

Under the current state of dopamine and serotonin destruction, many people have come to behave like rats in a lab that behave in a cracked up way towards one another. Somehow, we have been celebrating this falsely as an "evolution" and as the "future", while instead humans are becoming dysfunctional to extents never seen before in history because of these means of "communication" such as Social Media.

Social Media and a world that has been subjected to the lowest drives, has drove men into a loop circle where they chase imaginary, overtly falsely valued vagina that only appears in pixels in front of a screen.

This situation alongside socio-economic ladder and climbing issues that affect the youth and many men beneath their 30's, have turned women into the most inferiorized materialistic states coupled with psychological states of egopathy of the sickest extents they have ever been, and men into a deprived state of behaving as lowly as addicted and depressed pigs.

Somehow our present society enjoys this and considers this "progressive", all while we are literally going extinct and we are clapping as invasions and the progressive downfall of all ethical norms created by our ancestors are literally taking place in front of our very eyes.

We are falsely told that every moral norm that comes "from the outside" is wrong, and we no longer want to even tolerate obvious facts in history such as that women for example want powerful men or powerful offspring, which we are programmed against our biology to consider "strange", "negative" or even "messages against women".

It would do us a lot of good as a society to in general man up and start accepting freedom of speech which is a decaying quality in the Western World, even from sources which apparently are "evil" like Andrew Tate. In fact, Tate's "worst speech" is nothing compared to the local Imam or Jew in a synagogue.

Yet since it arguably highlights sometimes self reliance, to man up, and to effectively take the situation of life on one's own hands, coupled with some toxic statements per a hundred texts of line, our "world" considered it so important to launch a crusade against this.

That is because we don't stand by our ethical laws, and because we are retarded slowpokes that think that really "deplatforming Tate" is going to solve anything on this matter or that people like Tate really pose some sort of cultural evil. Yet, the real cultural evil that happens everyday and promotes itself as Virtuous, is literally eating our souls and our society alive.

The fact that we have to live persecuted in our own Nations for our own values, while Al Queida and other terrorists can do whatever they want, but we concern ourselves with the exaggerated jokes of Andrew Tate just shows how morally subversive we have become towards our own culture and ourselves.

From the perspective of humor, we could not be lower as a Western World. We are to where every joke is coming with a criminal penalty with it. We are becoming humourless retards that can only laugh with canned laughter on our "Netflix PROGRAMS", no different than the borg. We are creating a humourless civilization through this too which is a terrible civilization to be in.

Personally the only thing this situation with Tate is telling me is what I mentioned higher in this post.

If anyone knows more about this situation what are your thoughts?
