

Is the Transformation of Our World a "Conspiracy Theory", or a Reality?

As we proceed with our history and everything as an planet, we are seeing this happening: More and more "conspiracy theories" are constantly becoming mainstream, and widely accepted theory.

We used to be the "conspiracy theorists" that told people things like about the Co-Vid, or that the virus probably emerged from a lab. Others from here have written a lot on how this is not as dangerous. Long story short everything that was shared on this forum was reflective of proper conversation on the subject and most of it has been correct.

We've shared research and concerns about everything and we still do, so that people can make informed decisions. Things like this should have happened in Social Media, but were disallowed. But why? Because everyone had to accept a bat soup to a picolin theory or something like that.

In fact, we were commanded to stop conversing about these social matters that will affect our lives for decades to come and are unanimously decided by a Globalist clique that controls the media, information centers, theory making, and "acceptable notions" of society.

Journalists disappeared, doctors that had another opinion were left to rot instead of allowed to partake in scientific conversation, all the foundations of our so called "Democracy" were shattered.

Increasingly, people got exposed to the fact that we are moving forwards by what appears to be "temporary halting of democracy", towards a social and political, and financial change of global social affairs, that gives much credibility to a lot of what we previously called a "conspiracy theory".

Freedom in short, is going out the window.

Now, because a striking amount of people has understood about the "Great Reset", and others don't want to take the Vaccine, while there are many resistances to a long array of many plans by the Globalists, while the enemy is highly exposed, guess what?

Of course, let us entertain this theory now: Actually Co-Vid came from an actual lab, guys. Yes, things like Fauci playing in Wuhan, could plausibly be argued to have given rise to this virus, either premeditated, or by mistake. Strangely so, both him and Billy Gates are directly involved in both the research and everything else about the virus, the vaccine and so on. Where has all the research, coincidentally, about the mRNA vaccines, began? In Israel.

A series of coincidences, and coincidences that everyone was talking about, was called a conspiracy theory. People were banned, millions were wiped out in Facebook, others were stalked by authorities, and so on.

It took educated scientists around 1 year to write what we wrote in this forum, and we are no virologists. We don't blame them as virology doesn't exactly answer for other things that are common knowledge in this group. When we saw the pandemic thing emerging, we knew there would be attempts of rights usurpation, global forced changes, and other damning events.

There is never a logical day in clown world, or a day where we don't serve jewish standards.

Mysteriously, at the same point, as the natives of all Nations are forced and subjected to take strange and unverified vaccinations, boats of migrants in Europe that are completely non virally checked, will be entering Europe by the millions, for one more year. Strange, isn't it?

At this point however nothing will be making sense. Logical sense will be out the window for most aspects of human life. And why is this the case?

Because our world is serving for now, a series of conflicting morals and conspiracies by jews. These are out in the light now and soon will fall apart. But imagine if you did not know, would any of this make any sense?

What I mean by this, is that unless someone knows the enemy has an agenda [Namely, the Great Reset, Greater Israel, Global Control etc] and what this is and so on, nothing of what happens in this world will make any sense. This is why many people are so deceived.

Even worse, the above understanding can bring great fear to people, who may be oblivious on what to do. Observe for example, Christians. Many of them, believing in a jew and having no culture of their own [Jews wiped Paganism out], do know about many of these theories. Their "solution" is merely to beg a jew for their salvation, of which nothing is going to happen, but make matters worse.

In fact, for them, knowledge of these conspiracies only makes them more useless and more fearful, and more clingy towards a lie already created by jews.

Recently, Joe Biden announced he is going to make the biggest infrastructure spending plan of 6 trillion. This is the biggest package that has been issued since WW2. Of course, this will definitely bring inflation, it's only common sense. But, does that make sense?

If you read about the Great Reset, are aware of Jews, and so on, yes, it makes sense. If you believe in the official theory that all of this happened for a virus of 0.02% death rate, then nothing makes sense. If you know of more, then it makes sense.

If you have no idea what Billy Gates or Klaus Schwab has claimed, the Lockdown for anyone was nothing but a small vacation. If you are aware, you understand ahead of us we have a war for the future of humanity. This was is a war of information, knowledge, education of the masses.

When Israel was assaulted, it's stock market fell by 15% or so. All of a sudden, Biden was getting attacked for incompetence in the media. And other sectors such as Crypto rapidly started getting attacked and going down. Why is everyone kept silent and nobody wants to entertain the ramifications of extreme spending, creating hyperinflation, and incessant State lending, disregarding the fact that this might result in economic strife and collapse? Anyone makes sense of these incidents one by one?

If you knew about enemy plans of global financial control, controlled collapse, replacement of labor, great reset, and how they want to treat humanity, that would make more sense than the zero sense it makes right now. But this would take a bit of research. Not much, it's as easy as checking online for the time being.

Why did Biden get attacked by the same media that literally uplifted him within these few days? Maybe because he did not immediately intervene to help Israel? But what is the connection with the media and Israel?

Why Rabbis replied personally to celebrities like Dua Lipa and verbally attacked her in Twitter for her stance of wanting to oppose jewish racism? Why are jews allowed to believe these things without judgement, while others who supposedly believe 1% of the same, are persecuted as criminals in our societies? Why does Facebook and others police the thoughts of this world globally, and why does Zucceborg look like a reptilian alien? Are all of these unrelated events or what? The products of insanity and unacceptable notions? But why are they "unacceptable"?

Does it make sense?

For a person accepting the ongoing narratives, nothing will really make sense. All of these incidents will look merely as tribulation times, adverse, and people talking of these subjects as mentally insane. For those who know and are educated, not only one is prepared, but they understand the points.

Of course, if you know Israel's agenda and that they own the media, it does make a lot of sense. If you know even more, it makes even more sense. If one also knew about their dates, or for example, how this happens on key holidays for jews [coincidentally], then it would make even more sense. But if you know nothing, then no: nothing at all will make any sense. One needs to be aware.

All that many "Conspiracy theories" are, is just attempts to connect dots that don't make sense based on widely accepted, media narrative. In fact, the mere term

"Conspiracy Theorist" was constructed by the CIA, to keep people who have this tendency to appear as publicly insane.

While many are insane or many theories were only the product of extreme suspicions, many have only come out correct, haven't they? Yet there is insistence of dismissal because many people, even if they know some of this is true, don't know what to do.

At this point we are crossing now, the world is getting divided between two categories. Those who know what is going on [to ranging extents] and those who are totally oblivious.

The oblivious are to be taken less seriously in the future that is coming, since they are ignoring major manifestations and blatant proof in front of their very eyes. Within a few years, the only people who deny these messages will be people who willingly do so - sleepers by choice.

As HPS Maxine has said, many will want to join in the last moments, but it will be too late to do so. In the following years, we will stand as a beacon for these people, but will they accept their own light also, and choose to move away from this sphere of ignorance?

In the face of ever going changes and other things, Satanists enjoy a lot of benefits. We are informed, spiritually protected, and taken care of by the Gods. This is a factual reality as everyone here knows. When nobody in the world will know what is going on, we will know.

When they will have nobody to run to, many of us will be prepared. While many have paid the price of enlightenment once, which may come with a bit of pain to begin with, during the times of an unwelcoming world, the rest of life welcomes someone with understanding that is strong.

Praise Satan for the knowledge he gives and for the protection he bestows on the hearts and minds of all.

We believe that humanity and not the enemy will be the victor of this struggle. While many are blinded by the excessive odds in favor of the enemy, we believe in the human spirit and in that the human soul will come out victorious of this.

On top of everything, when all the darkness will subside, we believe we will be part of a brighter world than before. A more informed, more advanced, and more spiritual world, closer to Father Satan's intentions. The Great God towards whom, the biggest conspiracy was carried out, by these same beings who currently conspire against Mankind's creator as they conspire today against His very own creation.

We will be victorious,

HAIL SATAN!!!
