

Jews Won Battle Over Internet, but Lost the War

The jews are coming in a bit late with this censorship. They have been exposed to the world. Quite frankly I am wondering right now if most people that use or have used the internet, haven't fell on some material that reveals the jews. And it's entirely impossible to censor this now.

The jews used the week of the Hannukah to pull this attack on humanity. This is the week ongoing now. Another cohencidence?

Totally out of time, I had to post this. Obviously many of us are extremely angry. We did whatever we could. We cannot be carrying the whole world on our backs all the time, even if we do this, and just remember, everything backfires in the end to the enemy. This will backfire too. The jews show they are panicking. When it comes to Net Neutrality, the issue is, there are many interests involved. It cannot go down to the snap of a finger. However this removes a protection barrier from the internet.

But let's be honest now. For people like us here, with our 'beliefs', is it likely that the government would protect our rights of free speech? We are against anything illegal, but many people 'up there' believe they themselves are the law, in that they want to suppress minorities and people with whom they disagree or simply don't like. So they censor material regardless. They don't care about the Constitution, the bill of rights, or the rights of all human beings to express themselves. These are all a hoard of crap for them. The jews have constantly been pushing for policies directly against the Bill of Rights, to name one example.

So what change that lays off the internet does the government really make? Probably none. So called 'providers' and so called 'hosting companies' have consistently putting obstacles in our way. And we have been ongoing for more than 15 years now.

In the case where the enemy blocks or 'times out' our websites (which they have been doing regardless) we will just be raising new ones. For every measure there is a counter-measure. We have been working on this for 3 weeks now, without stopping, to provide these for everyone. We have also been countering other attacks such as the library etc. These require labor and a lot of time to get fixed. This is also why I have had delays, did post here only infrequently, and lastly some astro orders have been majorly delayed. This is total war right here.

Many jews think they are winning this 'war' against the Goyim. This is obvious in how they, in a dictatorship move, decided on the 14th of December to attempt to pass rogue legislation in the Free World about censoring the Internet.

The jews of course, do not care if they are hated. They are used to it, because this has been ongoing for centuries. Hate makes them sweat, even afraid, but that doesn't mean they will stop doing what they are doing. This is impossible. In the same way a serial killer has to keep killing anyone who comes after their tracks, and of course, clean their tracks, the same way is that of jewish psychology.

In the same way, the internet has tracked the tracks of jewish crimes, for centuries in the past. And let's not forget the internet is not some random entity, but actually, a community created by the inhabitants of the earth.

The jews are actively becoming more hated in the world. Not because the world is hateful, as because the world is really docile anymore. But because they are pushing it and spitting directly in the faces of people.

Due to the alien character of the jews, they want to get 'up there' and show everyone how they are ruling the world, how they don't give a shit to change country legislations because Ajit Pai was a Verizon lawyer so 14 years later he decided to benefit his mommy Verizon by giving them the ability to profit immensely by skyrocketing internet prices.

I bet he is sitting in his office now, with his huge and 'convincing smiles', thinking about how paying personal favors is so nice. And how good it will be for those whom, he doesn't even know about why, pushed him to take this decision. To make him go down one of the most hated people in history and who has opened the door for great crimes to one of the biggest inheritances of the planet, the internet. For what? I highly doubt him, and many others can see the giant mistakes they are doing.

To them it may be a riddle (if we are to assume they are innocent) but to the jews, they grovel in that there is one further opening to destroy and wreck freedom even more. Every little depriving of Freedom is actually beneficial to the jews.

As Hitler stated, if you want to enslave a people, just rob freedoms little by little. Nothing blatant. Just little by little, nobody noticing, until they are completely enslaved. The internet has given the ability to people to see these little 'changes', that they could never see before. Would anyone but congressmen and a chosen few people around the White House, ever know of any similar legislation before? Hitler was writing this to typically alert to how the jews operate. One century later, he stays fresh and relevant as ever.

Arguably, most of humans didn't know how to read back then, let alone to read legislation. Today, people can know these things.

How the jews have separated themselves from other people, is through financial context. The "Rich" anymore, means largely, the jews. This is the first state of jewish dictatorship, that of the 'rich' against the poor. They just mask themselves amongst the rich people anymore, as they own much wealth in the world. Then they drop the mask and just typically claim it: "we are jews".

Until this state they transfer the rights to the 'rich', which is essentially empowering themselves, and possibly 10% of asleep Gentiles who are too busy trying to live the high life rather than minding anything important or giving a shit about society at all. So everything is under control. Then, they drift into Communism, where they completely eliminate the 10% of Rich Gentiles who can possibly compete with them on the higher levels, higher education, or take political power from them etc. So they become zero over time.

Long story short, I remember being in a speech where a jew was arguing that people weren't doing 'conscious use' of the internet, and how it needs to be closed to most people. He went on and on about how regulations and impositions should be used. This typically means the jews want to close everyone out of the internet, and only themselves to have access on it. Since they can't say this as they will be killed in the open, they instead find more technical ways to try to keep people out, such as this attempt to make the internet extremely expensive.

The jews also feel that they are 'up there', way beyond the reach of the average person, and all too confident in their ability to control the Goyim, always devising new methods. However the escalation of jewish defeat is really showing in that they are losing, out of all the crap traps they created, a small percent of people. Imagine this as an array of filters. People keep falling from filter to filter.

First, they understand bad guys run the world. Then, they go deeper and understand it's not just bad guys, but bad guys with motives. Then they dig the rabbit hole deeper and deeper, filtering each level with stupid and fake ass revolutionaries, and the bravest people reach the bottom, which is a pure awakening. Many people try to plaster on the higher levels, but they still oppose the jews, albeit not directly- so turning people towards freedom always guarantees that they will be opposed to the jews in one way or another.

However for any effective reaction, there is more knowledge that is needed. These late generations are too comfortable, too naively thinking everything will last forever (such as the case of the internet) and the probability of social failure or the world going to shit looks like a very distant dream.

People need to keep getting enlightened. As the enemy devises methods to keep people blind, we must find methods and do our little or big actions to get people to wake up. Safely and with subtlety, for most of us.

The jews are affirming what was once "Conspiracy theory", "Hate Speech", "Nazism Censorship" and all other 'paradoxes' as real and legit. Nobody is really questioning their influence anymore. This means that the more they get exposed, the more they will get in war with humanity, ironically, through humanities own countries, own people, own family, own brains, and own states, weapons and nations.

At this rate, the enemy will go down and will sink all the more. Let them show to the world what kind of freedom hating entities they are. Let them censor the internet more, and let them attempt to castrate humanity. Too much peace has people sleeping, but attacking their freedom as the jewish virus does, is exactly what will kick the immune system of humanity to start combating this danger. The RTR's will make sure of this.
