Greetings to all our Satanic People and Comrades!

Today is a happy day for everyone, as we are going open with an online store! Bear in mind that this is only just opening now, so many of the products aren't even listed yet. However, there are a few listed, and many more are going to come. It will constantly be updated with new things added!

We will have Android Apps, Services, e-Books, and many, many other interesting things so make sure to check frequently. You will all be notified with updates from here in regards to that, and these will also be frequent.

Unfortunately there are only 24 hours in a day. While most of these hours I devote to work for all of us here, now, some of these hours will be going for services and other beautiful things to make everyone's Satanic journey more easier and fun. There is tireless work going into everything, for all of us, and for Satan and the Gods.

I have named this after Azazel, as he has been really helping me with setting up everything, guidance, and support. This has been published in literally, record time, and under extreme pressure.

What's good is that what's in the store right now is on the a discount, and will remain so until a few days. The plan is to keep expanding the store and gradually, I will be uploading more services and more things there. As all of you here know, that's a busy job, and you all need to be understanding. There will be updates, things may move around, or be changed, however - all orders placed will be executed 100% as they should. The changes will be expansive, and only dealing with the layout etc. of the webpage, new additions etc.

With that being stated feel free to go browse and shop anytime!

By the way, as a celebration for the opening of the store, I put something that is free, as a gift for all of you. Its an Android App called "RTR Veteran". RTR Veteran is an application to help you do your RTR's, provide you all the info required, even have the audio MP3's in it- all of that offline, and from the comfort of your smartphone.
