

Satan's Library and Other Sites Temporary Downtime

Unread post by HP. Hoodedcobra666

The websites were being moved and we have some issues with the provider. They should be functional now. If issues persist we will move them again to ensure best performance. Do not worry, and no, that is not directly an enemy attack this time, it's system issue.

Thanks to everyone who also messaged about this. Also please check the performance of the sites and how they load. If you have any issues with the loading [or even if it's slow] do report this so that we will look into it.
