Below There Is a small 9 day schedule until an updated one comes along [with updated Rituals].

This is supposed to help everyone and fortify everyone with blessings for the next days. This is a short preliminary schedule. The aim is to help people spiritually and promote empowerment for the next schedule.

It's understandable many people are in vacations and in a relaxed mode right now. We want to improve on this soul nurturing so people get a rejuvenation necessary for the next rituals. Half of any victory is the nurturing the soul requires.

Also, there will be a wave of new additional rituals that will come. Many will be blessings. I believe strongly in helping people and that this will make everyone perform better. This will affect those who participate and do their end of the deal in this, of course.

Aside new information, new modes of warfare will also be given, upgraded from what we have been using before. This is to keep with the momentum of the war. Two major updates happened but these were in the direction of foiling the enemy, next updates will be more for benefit of our own.

The FRTR is taken as a granted for each of the days. [Combined with Veil Removal+Shattering]
