

A Jew Broke His Fingernail: When It Matters and When It Does Not

If one knows the statistics the reality is that around 160,000 people die on a daily basis. Some people die because their lungs are filled with cancerous cigarette tar. Others die naturally. Quite a number of people dying also die because of car accidents, drunkenness, and of course, violence and slavery.

There are places in Africa where people are cut into pieces daily by their own racial compatriots. After constantly spamming of this meme, the power of it to matter has been reduced. People nowadays take it for granted.

There are people in India who are sacrificed in some cultistic kabbalistic practices by people who are sick and superstitious. Their deaths do not matter.

There are people in Europe who just woke up to go to their job and got gutted by a Muslim out of pure hatred. That is, if they were not raped and abused before their death. Some of these victims are also young innocent children.

Thousands of the people dying are also the result of experimentation, work slavery, and all other sorts of disturbing incidents that can be boiled down to the morality of how this world is built.

Many of these thousands also commit suicide, especially in the West, because of lack of support, lack of spirituality, impoverishment, or drugs. Streets are filled everyday all over the world with hundreds and thousands of people who died due to drug abuse, alone and isolated in a corner, forgotten completely by anyone in the world.

Yesterday, on October 27, the Israeli Armed forces killed 5 Palestinians simply because they protested, what is basically, Israel's genocidal policy against these people, for whole decades. These things are not even war crimes, they are way lower. People once more just carried their dead compatriots - another daily thing in Israel. They systematically kill many Palestinians in rogue warfare and do all sorts of experimentation on them, but the death of these people 'does not matter'.

Probably on October 26 there died some more Palestinians. It's a daily reality for them. Plus, we will never know how many are abducted, tortured, or killed in rogue mode. Because there are no news agencies covering what is going on in these regions. Unless a Palestinian throws a rock at a tank, which is a criminal offense that needs to equal death, according to Israeli mindset.

This day today 25,000 kids will die from malnutrition. Really, who cares? Did BBC or CBS cover anything? Are these kids the children of the owner of CCN, BBC or CBS? No. Are they Jewish? No.

So well their deaths have to just become a meme for when the Jews preach their globalist doctrine and nothing else. The system values the deaths of these people to no propaganda value.

The Jews due to their lifestyle do not have to suffer any of this. For one, they own the Tobacco companies, so they do not smoke. They promote alcoholism, and they do not drink. As for the crimelords and mafias, Pablo Escobar was a typical example of a Jew who has poisoned this planet just for personal gain. They live happily and safely in civilizations that they constantly betray, and onto which, they push reverse morality on so that people commit suicide when they follow it. They live in the best and richest areas of the world, heavily guarded by police and always protected, while others do die in the slums. Jews are most of the time exempt from taxes, protected by the law, and can get away with anything just by accusing their enemies of racism or antisemitism. No matter what happens in this world, they are never 'responsible' for anything, and if anyone even remotely suspects anything like that, they just brand them an anti-Semite and so forth.

A typical example of how you can escape federal crimes just because you're a Jew is Joe Bernstein (A BuzzFeed journalist) wrote in his Twitter "Kill a straight white man on your way to work today" on Twitter.

<https://web.archive.org/web/20190615173733/https://medium.com/@jonathanlocwood/kill-a-white-man-bernsteins-racist-homophobic-tweets-attack-whites-candace-owens-says-5c727f47f6d8>

Nothing happened to him for this comment. Perfectly acceptable. It's not like he is espousing murder to possibly hundreds of thousands of readers. After all, this is democratic and kosher approved of a comment. And it's about White people. So, it doesn't really matter.

All races on this planet, by their own racial people or others, have undergone slavery, oppression, and death. Most of the time, all races did commit it to their own people, rather than anyone else or some other race. There have been cataclysmic wars and inconceivable abuse on this planet, going back to centuries, by the specimen of a race attacking their own people. Some people blame the Jews for this in particular in the West, as by some huge coincidence, the merchant class of jews in the 14th century owned the whole of Europe through banking houses by the 15th century and after the wars of the middle ages. But this has to be another conspiracy...

But we know nothing of these incidents. We know for example some things like Native America, but we are never told of what Genghis Khan did in Europe. Nobody knows of the Armenian or the Greek genocide. We are never told that when Whites went in Africa the default was a system of extreme brutality, where some races of black people were running around just to save themselves from unending tribal warfare. For an example today, the greatest and most systematic genocide is taking place against Palestinian people, and other people in Syria in the Middle East. But nobody cares. The millions of deaths of these people do not matter.

And it's pretty clear why every time a jew is as far as scratched, all media just rant and rave about it. Not only this, but the death of a single or a couple of jews, by what is otherwise a constant for all other people, is trying to be made into a catalyst to completely change, malform, and destroy whole countries, their constitutions and laws. People die every day, for numerous reasons. Everyday tens and hundreds of people in the US just lose their lives out of brainless Black brutality, and double the amount of these Black people get assaulted by their own.

25000 children die every day of poverty from not having to eat a loaf of bread. 160,000 people die every day from serious moral and civilization problems.

Out of all the people today that died of rape, malnutrition, massacres in the middle of some jungle, or poisoning that parades as 'daily life', only the death of the important people will be picked to be made a fuss about.

The jews.

However if anything even by coincidence befalls the jews, everyone has to be told about it, consistently. Everyone is responsible for this if they dislike the jews, or better yet, if they do not CARE about the jews, they are liable of anti-Semitism. For the hundreds of millions who perish every year in what appears as systematic poisoning and warfare, nobody cares. There are not many news articles about these things. Our TV's won't be spamming the events 24/7 for the next 70 years.

And why is this the case? The morality behind this is simple: "One million Arabs are not worth a Jewish fingernail," Rabbi Yaacov Perrin said in a eulogy." [Source below] So just imagine 160,000 people dying everyday is not even worth a jewish fingernail.

If it was worth a jewish fingernail, we would know about it, and be told about it until the end of time.

You can hate Asians and nobody will tell you anything bizarre about this. You can hate Latinos with some loose judgment.

You can hate Blacks similarly with some loose judgment.

You can hate Whites and be given a free house, a place in THEIR country to hate them directly, a free pass to commit criminality with legal judgment, and being rewarded for it for your whole life on top of it and praised as a hero of the brave new multicultural world.

The problem, as Rabbi Yaacov Perrin stated, is when jews break their fingernails, which are worth 1,000,000 of Goyim in number. If a jew breaks a fingernail, we have to be told about it until the end of time.

The world cannot take the breaking of a jewish fingernail. But we can readily take the deaths of hundreds of millions of others every couple of years or so.
