

Who is Stupid and Who is Clever in Satanism?

Nowadays this society promotes as intelligence simply having a fat IQ. Which is only part of the deal. This is because society has lost other elements which measure intelligence.

Everyone knows the word Idiot. Idiot actually comes from Ancient Greek and from the word Idiotis. This word was a serious slur such as calling someone an abomination, and was heavily infested with negative meaning. It was like one of the worst things you could tell someone back then, insult of insults. But why?

Idiotis means "He who acts only for his own interest" and "denies to participate in the affairs of the whole in full". The extremely selfish person in other words. Since the Ancient Greeks were civilized and therefore putting the whole higher than the person, to only delve in personal striving was considered retardation.

Why is the above stupid? Simply: Because the thinking that one can live alone is a full-blown illusion. Nobody lives alone, and nobody exists in full alone-ness in a proper manner. This is why people gather together and make villages and later civilization. You cannot even have progeny alone. You simply die off. Old age sets in or whatever, and off goes the 'brave and independent person' that 'never gave a damn about anyone'. If anything befalls you, that's it, one is more than likely dead. Early humans understood this fact so they choose to be together rather than alone.

Many people and the jews state Satanism is supposed to be egotism. Which is purely false. You cannot spiritually advance if you are fully an egotist. Developing a sense of self and rectifying it is one part of the deal, but there is another part as well. The Serpent cannot rise higher than the Solar chakra if a person doesn't move past the realization that actually they are part of and the spiritual advancement forces for assessment with our relations to other people for better or for worse.

This is for example why many people discharge negative emotions and pent up pains that came from bad association etc., in order to heal. In the heart chakra we have the understanding of the union with another person for a love relationship (this can be human or demon) but as we go higher, the understandings become trans-personal and deal also with our position in the chain of life in general.

Do not confuse the above with being a lone wolf or anti-social. We are talking about our own house here. Being social today is in many ways equal to being in a jungle. And many people dislike this, same as people who are natural loners. But this doesn't really imply idiocy or that one is acting only for themselves. They just like to have a distance.

True Idiocy is when someone seldom gives a fuck on whatever is going on in this world, at all. Like a person who is fully absorbed in themselves to the point they see nothing else.

Acting in such way one shows they are spiritually inferior. Many people think that they are spiritually superior simply because they are strong, but that's one aspect for it. The other aspect is proper use of any power one has. Which can in some cases be superior to simply being powerful. So, what if you can raise huge boulders but never built a hut to live in? Or to house your family? A pencil neck person that builds a hut is ten times better than the muscle man that just throws rocks for no reason around the place.

Since there are many idiotic people in this world anymore and this planet is a jungle (we are working to correct this goyimization), one can also associate themselves with people here and the Gods to fulfill these needs, rather than abrasive and crappy individuals who are just toxic and time wasting to others. So, one can reach fulfillment that way. It doesn't matter how much one contributes, either. As stated, everything is worthwhile. One can do work for the Gods and their own part in this.

People who don't do the RTR's are idiots. They assume that even if they do not, someone else will. Or that let's say the world will exist anyway or something. The truth is however next lifetime or within this lifetime, if we let on, we will find ourselves in gulags. And I will see there, how important your little ego was for not doing the RTR's and being an IDIOTIS, giving a fuck only about yourself. This applies to everyone here without exception, Clergy and everyone, nobody is exempt. This idiocy is also bordering to stupidity, since for example, why shouldn't one spam an RTR that literally FREES their Serpent to advance faster?

People work in order to create a future for themselves. It also makes sense to work spiritually to build up for your spiritual future. If one doesn't do that, they are at the mercy of others. While this can be financially true in this world, in cases such as the world future these are not. Not only there are not many merciful forces, but there are forces who just want to annihilate humanity in full.

If the enemy takes over all the so-called reasons that make one "love" themselves so much as to not give a damn to partake in this effort. Will be lost.

Guess what all these don't exist in the gulag the enemy is preparing and we will stay there indefinitely. Which is the harsh truth. The enemy has lashed out and revealed themselves in full even for the most stupid people to see it.

They have lashed out beyond any reasonable extent to the point nobody who pays a day studying facts will say anymore it's all a 'conspiracy theory'. So Asmodeus's words about blatant manifestations have become a reality. If anyone wants to maintain a good egotism and self, one also has to maintain the measures of safety around what we call FREEDOM in order to have this.

And what do you have to do? Truly...Past generations were decimated and suffered for endless centuries and decades, every second on end. All you have to do is use some spiritual NUKES given to us by the Gods. Talk about extreme entitlement.

If the generations of 2018 aren't even willing to do some spiritual warfare. Then what is there to say, they deserve a gulag. Because indeed compared to the past generations and their morbid pain and suffering, centuries and hundreds of years on end, if one chooses to give nothing now, not even hilarious things like let's say some minutes in a day...Then there's the door to leave the game of life...

This is why I tell you this behavior doesn't tread on idiocy, it treads on STUPIDITY....

And why shouldn't one push the forces that seek to destroy someone and decay them back? This is truly the least one can do, to defend themselves. Animals that do not defend themselves are easy prey. We are humans so this happens in some other spheres, but the natural laws apply fully here. And it fully applies materially as well.

Then, if one insists in this stupidity, at some point when you will be in danger, others will act as IDIOTS as well, but with too much IDIOCY all around, how can anything survive? We don't do the RTR's because we are only good people, we do these to topple a dangerous enemy, to live, to survive and to lavish after the enemy has deteriorated.

So, let's update Satanism and say, the true sin is one but it has two legs to it. Let's contain a second meaning in "Stupidity". We will contain in their IDIOCY. In other words, being stupid in your intelligence is one issue. Being an IDIOT is another. The second bad thing to do is to be a full idiot.

One may not be 'Stupid' and I don't believe anyone here is stupid. Have there been idiots here? I think yes, quite a few. Can this be corrected? Of course. The person is not inherently STUPID in terms of intelligence; it's just that they are acting in an IDIOTIC manner.

Lastly in Spiritual Satanism we have to try to emulate the Gods. Satan and our Guardians are having, sometimes, a painstaking time (well not really painstaking) trying to explain things to beings that are on a lower level. This doesn't mean we are abandoned and/or looked down upon or punished. We must respect the efforts of the superior beings to teach us and give us immortality, advance our existence, and to set us spiritually free.

As stated in another post today, the clever person instinctively we call "Bright". This deals with the light of the soul in a very direct manner. The things that these beings ask from us are simple...Meditate and advance so that we do not decay, and use supreme spiritual technology to fix our world. One has to be stupid to turn down such things. The bright ones will however advance.
