Greetings to all of our Satanic Comrades,

As everyone knows, one of our powerful communities has been Turkey for a long time. Translators there and people involved have done a wonderful job in spreading the message to their own kin, for years now. Therefore, it is now, all things considered, the time where our Turkish SS do actually come under the same roof, free from oppression from corrupt jewish governments, with the ability to assemble online and converse about anything pertaining to their lives as Satanists.

To that end, and given the situation of oppression in Turkey [this comes with radical Islam], it would be a good idea for Turkish members that live in Turkey, to take some precautions such as a proxy or a VPN to connect to the internet, or simply use TOR. The forums have been made open to TOR users worldwide, as some of our readership and members come from places of discrimination, violence, and other proofs of the "Love" the Abrahamic Jewish religions are all about.

Turkey as a country in the modern world has taken a reverse turn in regards to what Turkey was before, like anyone else- what we call today as a State by this name, was in the past, filled with booming Pagan communities, people that worshipped the Gods for centuries and centuries. Tengrism, one of the few examples that has been accredited to Turkey, shows clearly that Turks followed a general line of an Indo-European character, which defined all their religious beliefs.

All the races of Turkey had in one form or another, the very same mythological symbology like all Gentiles did, which was centered around the Serpentine Kundalini power, and which of course, people practiced for centuries. A lot of history about this ends in the 10th century where the enemy made major advances in the region, but existing evidence is enough in itself. In Native Turkic myth one who knows what the secret meanings mean, does understand, that Turks followed the same Indo-European tradition [Serpent based and Godhead based], especially so in the metaphysical sense.

Until of course, jewish infiltration took place, and the local and regional religions were turned progressively into a violent form of Judaism, which is rebranded as "Islam" so the "Goyim cannot know". Some of the most potent and toxic versions of enemy poison, were cast on the Turkish people through Zoroastrianism. Rabbis go into detail on how they infected the civilizations of the Near East, such as Turkey, and they have stayed there doing business for centuries, on the back of Gentiles as per usual.

Islam, with it's advent, destroyed so mercilessly the great majority of spiritual knowledge, that Turks are no exception in this regard like anyone else, have now tidbits left compared to what was present before in region. Many cults from all over the Pagan world, have passed through, or have had relationships with Turkey, from Mithraism, all the way to the native Persian Paganism. On top of this, the enemy with their "Islamist" agenda, does not allow Turkish people and scientists and/or educated people to even do anything remotely active to find about their past, such as let's say, archaeological digging or inquiry.

Iran is in a similar situation in that regard, where Iraq and Iran were both bombed until nothing remained. Egypt, which unironically is one of the most major places for archaeological Pagan knowledge, also is succumbing under the poison of Islam, to where the Government either disallows excavations, or outright destroys or blocks findings that could topple the disease of Islam. Islam, is based on the hebrew letters, and is blotted out with the Final RTR. There are billions of people living their lives in needless oppression of the lowest kind that did not exist in this level before in history. The enemy wants Islam to persist at all costs, for it's Nation destroying power is very effective.

Turkey is rife with antisemitism and also historically this is the case, as the enemy has been very active in Turkey and specifically in Istanbul for centuries, motivating ceaseless and pointless cultural and material warfare, trying to keep local leaders from advancing and using next leaders who have been jews to backtrack every attempt of the country to advance, and generally putting the blame on the Turkish people as a whole.

For those that may not know, Turks were majorly allied with the Axis in WW2, and in specific, Hitler's Germany, and even the SS took honorary Turks as members. This was in these cases a situation that had to do with Race, and not "Islam" as erroneously stated by historians. Turks were [they are millions and a very large landmass], of many Gentile sub races of the region, and on the shores, many can be predominantly White, Persian, while in some cases Mongolian.

The relationship of friendship between Germany and Turkey has persisted to this day, although, Jewish International councils of reptilians are now using this relationship as part of their general agenda of race mixing and subversion of the region.

Nowadays, Turkey has been used meticulously by the enemy to become a center and a hub for Islamism, which is the vision that all "Islamic Countries" should unite, with the general goal of Jihad in mind [this is seldom said, but this is what this is about]. Political incompetence of jews, pushes into this direction, as to keep the populace from progressing, and because the jews have Islam as a second ace in the sleeve for when Christianity is going to fail in the West [which the last failure of, brought worldwide awakening].

We always knew the enemy's agenda, and how they turn countries, people, and everything they can, from light, straight into the bottomless dark pit of ignorance, violence and death.

Yesterday and today, the enemy has had one of their darkest and grimmest days, the 9th of AV, where the Romans destroyed Jerusalem and Jews. Indeed that is a day of celebration for everyone, and so it should remain, as a symbolic war against the toxicity and damnation the Jewish race has been spreading on humanity, and a historic reaction against this.

With a lot of happiness and celebration, we announce that from now on, officially, the Joy of Satan Turkish forums will be active. These will be moderated by selected individuals of proper morals that have only one wish in mind, to advance Satanism and to take care of other Satanists. In any event that any form of authority is abused contrary to that end, moderators are simply going to change to more transparent people who exercise power promptly. This is for the well-being of the members.

As always, care to personal security is advised, since, the enemy may not sit idle when it comes to specific people assembling. Remember, this is online, and to not put your personal information to risk, especially in countries where the "Vibrant tolerance" [which can get someone killed over this] of the enemy has manifested itself too far.

May the Gods bless this endeavor to free the Turkic people and see to that we all advance together in the path that they have set, setting the world free from enemy chains, and may we banish ignorance permanently in our collective efforts.

Let us all give them our most positive wishes, and warmest welcome. May we always succeed in manifesting Satan's Holy Endeavors.
